Housing Stability Action Plan – Housing Stability for All

The City of London's 2019-2024 Housing Stability Action Plan sets a new direction for the collective work of the community. The Plan sets a vision of Housing Stability for All, with four strategic areas of focus. Each strategic area of focus has a goal, result, strategies, actions, and measures that will guide the work of the community now and in the future:

- Respond to the Homelessness Crisis;
- Create More Housing Stock;
- Provide Housing Supports; and,
- Transform Service System.

This five-year plan will call on all services, sectors, governments and residents to work collaboratively to prioritize and distribute actions that will have the greatest impact on addressing the rapidly changing and complex housing stability needs of individuals and families. The 2019-2024 Housing Stability Action Plan will help us to continue the work already being done to ensure every Londoner has a place to call home.

Now that the City of London has a new community driven "Housing Stability for All Plan", approved by Council and reviewed by the Province, there is a new set of deliverables that align with the City's needs, Council's strategies, and the recently approved budget. As part of the Stability Plan, there is a commitment to regular community reporting. A community report was submitted in January 2020 and another report is expected to be submitted in April or May 2020.
